25X1 17. [ ] Senator Charles Percy had breakfast at the Agency. Present from the Agency were: The Director, Desmond FitzGerald, R. Jack Smith, Carl Duckett, [ ] and John S. Warner. The Director gave a short briefing on the Agency organization and the place of the Agency in the Government structure. There was additional discussion by R. Jack Smith on his office function and the dual role of the Director. The Senator was shown the format and types of items in the President's Daily Bulletin and the CIA Daily. There was further discussion of the Soviet space program and the Soviet ABM situation. There was some discussion of the Soviet economy. We agreed to send the Senator a copy of the Fiat study and some other studies relating to the role of scientists, professors, and other intellectual types within the Iron Curtain. The Senator was most interested in all of the discussion and after the briefing stated, without doubt, he had never met a finer group of people either in Government or out of Government. 25X1
